The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) College of Kentucky, offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate courses of study are also provided, leading each to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers more than thirty professors and instructors.

County Appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The last Legislature appropriated $30,000 for a college home for young women and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. Military tactics and science are fully provided for and required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply.

Last year the matriculation list was 563.

When you go to Arkansas or Texas you can travel in comfort if you know how. Ask the ticket agent for a ticket via the COTTON BELT ROUTE and you can ride in a reclining chair car, without extra cost, and thus avoid the discomforts you would encounter in an ordinary car. The chairs are arranged so you can have a comfortable seat during the day and a good place to sleep at night. Each car is supplied with a ladies' dressing room and a gentlemen's stoker. You will not have to bother about changing cars, for these cars run through from Memphis and Cairo to Texas without change. Direct connections are made at Cotton Belt junctions with trains for all parts of Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and the far West.

If you are thinking of taking a trip, write and tell us where you are going and when you will leave, and we will tell you how much your ticket will cost, what train to take so as to make the best time and connections, and any thing else we can that will help make your trip a comfortable one. An interesting little booklet, "A TRIP TO TEXAS," will be mailed free to any address.

PEPSIN SYRUP CO.
Dear Sirs:—I feel it my duty to write to you and let you know how much good your medicine has done for me. Twenty-three years ago I was taken with some kind of stomach trouble and I tried everything I heard of. They did me but little good. Three years ago neuralgia set in on me and I got so poor and weak that I could hardly walk—couldn't work any. My husband received a book through the mail, advertising your medicine, and he sent our little boy to the drug store to get one of your ten-cent bottles. I began to use it. It is strange to say, but it's the truth, the second dose I took gave me lots of relief. I kept on using it for nearly a year and I am as strong as I was before and can do any kind of work. I recommend it to all for it seems to me it would cure anybody. I have gotten others to use it and they say Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has done them much good. God bless Dr. Caldwell and his medicine for doing me so much good.

A STRANGE DISCOVERY.

A Lost Tribe of Eskimo Has Been Found.

The strangest anthropological "find" recorded in the last decade of the nineteenth century is nothing less than the discovery on a lonely island in Hudson bay of a lost tribe of Eskimos—a community which has been without intercourse with other representatives of the human species for centuries, and whose members never saw a white man until a few months ago. They are still in the stone age, knowing no metals; they grow no plants, and their houses are built of the skulls of whales.

The home of this strange tribe is on Southampton island, a piece of water-girt terra firma nearly as big as the state of Maine, situated at the north end of Hudson bay. Apparently the people have dwelt there ever since pre-Columbian times, and today they live and subsist in exactly the same way as they did then.

Having been isolated for so long a period, it is natural that they should exhibit many peculiarities. A superb collection of utensils, weapons of the chase and other objects, made through the agency of Dr. Franz Boas, has been brought to New York in a whaling vessel and deposited in the Museum of Natural History.

The houses of skulls, more properly described as huts, are built by putting together the great jaws of right whales, which are covered over with skins. In the middle of this primitive dwelling is an elevated place on which stands the inevitable stone lamp, employed for lighting, heating, cooking, melting snow, drying clothes and in certain arts. It is nothing more than an open dish of whale oil or seal oil, with a wick of dry moss soaked in fat.

The whale is the chief means of subsistence of these strange people. They use the whalebone in a variety of surprising ways, making even their cups and buckets of it by bending it into rounded shapes and sewing on the bottoms. Many of their implements are of whalebone, and from the same stuff they manufacture toboggan-like sleds.

They make sledges with walrus tusks for runners and deer antlers for cross pieces. It would be hard to find more daring hunters than are they, the seal, the walrus and the wary caribou contributing to their game bags.

The tribe comprises only 58 individuals, about equally divided between the sexes. Its members speak a dialect peculiar to themselves and quite unlike that employed by any other Eskimos. A strait about 30 miles broad separates Southampton island from the western shore of Hudson bay, where there is a colony of Eskimos, and once in a very long while the strait freezes over. This happened, it is said, 75 years ago, and then a few hunters came over from the island to the mainland, where they were much surprised to encounter other human beings like themselves, having doubtless imagined that they were the only people in existence.

This is now a tradition with the natives on the mainland, who say that the strangers brought two sledges with them, but went away again and never returned. Neither before nor since has any news come from the lost tribe until recently.

On Southampton island there is no soapstone, which among the Eskimos elsewhere is the favorite material for pots and kettles. Hence the people of the lost tribe are obliged to make such receptacles out of slabs of limestone glued together in rectangular shapes with a mixture of grease and deer blood. In the same way they manufacture their lamps, and this fact is another evidence of the prolonged isolation of the community described, inasmuch as Eskimos, when they can obtain no soapstone in their own neighborhood, will pay any price to get it from some other more fortunate tribe.

The story of this shut-off tribe of Eskimos parallels the tradition of the famous lost colony of Norsemen, which, as recorded in the sagas and in Norse folk lore, was cut off in Greenland 600 years ago.

To match this notable discovery in the frozen north, another very strange ethnological "find" has just been made by Mr. George H. Pepper, who, like Dr. Boas, is connected with the American museum of natural history. This is nothing less than the turning up in northern New Mexico of deposits representing what may be termed fossil snake dances—in other words, memorials of ceremonials of this description which were conducted perhaps 1,000 years ago by the ancestors of the modern Moki Indians.
